Poison Case.

Death and Illness From Poison Sansage.

PHILADELPHIA, August 6 .- A very bad and to some extent tatal poisoning case occurred in the Twenty-fifth ward. A provision deeler, named Obadiah Leesie, No. 2004 Frankford road, purchased a quantity of sausage some time ago, and they soon became mouldy. Fred. King, aged 18 years, states that he purchased some, took it home and it was washed in hot water, and then placed upon the table of King's family.

The family, consisting principally of children, partock of it. In a short time they were all taken ill and turued blue. It was evident they had been poisohed. One of the children died after three hours extreme agony, and the others were also taken dangerously ill at the occurred in the Twenty-fifth ward. A tion, and will in a few days issue a general order, organizing all the military regiments and companies of the State into a brigade, and will require the commanding officers of each to report to the Brigadier General, A. C. Ducat, of Chicago, who will be assigned to the command. Gen. Ducat, it is said, will pay a visit to each of the companies, as soon as possible, in order to inspect them.

It is reported here this morning that an attempt was made last night, six miles on this side of Danville, to wreck and rob the New York express train on the Toledo, Wabash & Western Railroad. The parties making the attempt had cut open a switch and left it open. In consequence of the recent floods the Toledo & Wabash road, with characteristic care, have been running a pilot engine in advance of each passenger train.

WORTHINGTON, IND., Aug. 6.—A great many families were removed from their houses in boats, and are entirely destitute. Their crops are gone, and they will suffer if not helped. From forty to fifty thousand acres of land are inundated. The loss in this county is estimated at one to two million dollars.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., August 6.—
The wheat, oats and hay crops are damaged fifty per cent. Potatoes are almost an entire failure. Corn is damaged very little, except in river bottoms. Fruit is an entire failure. The loss in Clarke county will reach $80,000 to $100,000.

WAVERLY, O., August 6.—The river has fallen eight feet, disclosing corn entirely ruined. It is estimated that about one-fourth of the entire crop of corn is damaged in Pike county.

TERRE HAUTE, IND., August 6.—The loss in this section is fully fitty per cent. of the crops. The loss to crops and the destruction of property in fourteen counties tributary to Terre Haute is not less than $12,000,000. There is profound discouragement among all classes.

New Albany, Ind., August 6.—The Ohio is rising here at the rate of an inch per hour, and overflowing all the bottom lands below the city. The loss on wheat is total; cats total; corn on high lands, no estimate. Potatoes are rotting.

MUNCIE, IND., August 6 .- Wheat in shocks is covered with aprouts six inches long, but it will be better than at first thought. The oats are all lost, and nearly all the hay and flax. The corn will make half acrop. Other grain about one-third.

LAFAYETTE, IND., August 6.- The loss in Tippocance county is estimated at half a million; in Chroii, Warren and Fountain counties, a quarter of a million each. This is by the overflow alone.

each. This is by the overflow alone.

Indianapolis, August 6.—In some sections the estimated dangage is fifty per cent., in others greater, and in some localities the entire crop is destroyed. The loss in the central and southern portion of the State will aggregate fifty or sixty per cent. Along the Wabash river, 200,000 acres of corn have been entirely destroyed by flood, which alone, at fitteen dollars per acre, would aggregate $3,000,000.

No uneasiness is felt.

Springfied, LL., August 6.—The river is subsiding, and nearly all trains are moving on time. The loss in Sangamon county will not fall short of $1,000,000. The damage to bridges and other property is very large. The loss by floods in Central Illinois is estimated at from $7,000,000 to $8,000,000.

$7,000,000 to $8,000,000.

CHICAGO, August 6.—Reports from southern and central portions of the State can not be made with any degree of accuracy. The total loss will not exceed three millions, and a few days of sunshine may show that figure to be much too large. Corn has suffered greatly, and it is stated that a hundred thousand acres of that cereal lying along the lilinois bottoms are under water. The wheat harvest is nearly over.

YOKOHAMA, July 18.—The Assembly of Provincial Officers closed its session July 17. The subjects debated were the organization of a National police force, improvement of roads and bridges, and the luture establishment of a popular representation in the House. The first two were satisfactorily adjusted and the third leit open for lurther consideration. The silk-worm producers, who lost heavily by the excessive supplies last year, have resolved to limit the number this year to 1,500,000.

The negotiations with Corea have suddenly assumed at last a friendly charitants. Illinois bottoms are under water. The wheat harvest is nearly over.

MEMPHIS, August 6.—One-half of the corn crop along the river between here and Osceola is ruined, and fully one-firth of the cotton crop, with the water slowly and steady encroaching on the cotton lands. Below here on the Mississippi side very little damage has been done, and planters are still hopeful and busily engaged in strengthening the leyees; but on the Arkansas side, where the lands are unprotected, the damage already done is considerable. The river at this point is rising steadily; now stands the subject of the cotton crop, with the water slowly and steady encroaching on the cotton crop, with the water slowly and steady encroaching on the cotton crop, with the water slowly and steady encroaching the corn crop along the river between here and Osceola is ruined, and fully one-fifth of the cotton crop, with the water slowly and steady encroaching on the cotton crop, with the water slowly and Steady encropaching on the cotton crop, with the water slowly and steady encropeding on the cotton crop, with the water slowly and Steady encropeding on the cotton crop, with the water slowly and Steady encropaching on the cotton crop with the corn crop along the river between here and Osceola is ruined, and fully one-fifth of the corn crop and Steady encroaching on the cotton crop with the very large and the corn crop and of council of the corn crop and the corn crop and the corn crop and done is considerable. CINCINNATI, August 5, 1875. ED. STAR: There is some misunder standing as to a conductor's duty. Is it not their duty to stop when told, so as to enable persons to get on the car without injury to themselves? or is it necessary to be a woman or old man in order to receive attention? In the case in question, on this morning, the driver was told to stop, and, instead of doing so, let off the brake and started on a run up the hill on Ninth, from Cutter to Mound. If the steps are kept clear there would be some chance in getting on without stopping. By publishing this you will oblige A PASSENGER.

At the opening of the trial the counsel for the defendants submitted a motion that the plaintiff be compelled to cleet as to which one of the defendants he would appear against.

The Court, however, overruled the motion staring that after hearing the testimony he would give due consideration as to which one of the parties defendants in the sait was responsible, and if the testimony warranted it he would dismiss the other from the cause.

A bill of exceptions was taken to this ruling by the defendants' counsel, and a jury was demanded. Commercial Editor of the Chamber upon the death of Robert A. McFarland, Financial and Commercial Editor of the Chamber gesolutions:
Hesolved, That in the death of Robert A.
McFarland this Chamber has lost a valued member; one who, in the important relations which he sustained to it through many years, was faithful and conscientions to his convictions of duty, unbiased by sordid motives, and one who sustained by example and precept that high standard of integrity, mercantile honor and business morals which is the foundation of an bonorable and successful career and worthy of muitation.
Resolved, That as individual members we have lost a warm-hearted and generous friend,
a zealous and genial companion, and, above;
all, an honest and true associate. His friends were close as brothers, and onemies he had none. Few men leave behind them a more stainless record. His life is his best sulogy and trues cpitaph. And now, in passing up higher, he has been called to a wider spherio of usefullness. His vacant place here will not soon be filled.
Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the minutes of the Chamber, and a copy furnished to his relatives.

MYSTERIOUS ROBBERY.

$5,000 Worth of Walches and Jewelry Stelen. A mysterious case of burglary occurred last evening, between seven and eight o'clock, in which Mr. Soiomon Pareirs, a pawnbroker at No. 328 West Fifth street, three doors west of John street, was the victim. Mr. Parcira, at the above mentioned time, left his store to go to his lodge. He left his wife and daughter aitting at the front door of his establishment, and during his absence the his establishment, and during his absence the robbers was committed.

Mr. Pareira thinks that the robbers entered through a side door into the store while the two ladies were sitting outside. He had left the key in the inner door of the safe and the outside door was onen. The safe contained a valuable collection of gold watches, lowers, chains, lockets, gold and silver ornaments and over $500 in money. These articles were all taken away by the robbers without being heard by any one.

taken away by the robbers without being heard; by any one.

The amount stolen figures to above $5,000. After Mr. Pareirs treturned from the lodge his daughtes locked the safe, without listying a 5 suspicion that it was empty. On opening the store this morning and unlocking the safe, Mr. Pareira found out his loss, and immediately hurried, in a distracted condition, to the effice of the Chief of Police, loaving notice of the things taken and the number of the different watches.

No suspicion can be attached to any party.
